A GIFT FROM THE STARS.

By ERROLD DRAKE.

A LONG time ago, when the stars ruled on high,
A great many wonders were seen in the sky.
There were tables of blue, there were couches of gold,
And shelves of deep crimson, and colours untold;
There were floors black and shining, and walls white as snow,
And many more things that I really don't know.
Now said Venus to Saturn, said Saturn to Mars,
"I really do think we are greedy old stars;
For we have a secret that no one does know;
Let us share with the mortals who live down below!"
So they took the great secret, tacked it on to a spear,
Tied up in a thing that we call an "idea;"
Then dropped it right down on the top of a man,
Who, despairing, was painting a hot-water can.
The spear it struck home, the idea was unfurled,
And now the great wonder is known to the world:
Is carried by train, is carried by boat;
Is known to all people, on land or afloat;
Is carried by horse, is carried by camel;
And this is its name—"ASPINALL'S ENAMEL!"

TELEGRAMS

(via Galveston.)

Berlin, 24th—It is semi-officially announced from St. Petersburg that the Czar has at last decided to visit the Emperor William at Potsdam, on his return from the festivities in Denmark.

Paris, 24th—Four cases of cholera have occurred in the suburbs of this city.

Paris, 24th — Over three hundred Anarchists have been arrested here and in other French cities within the past few days. The arrest of some Englishmen has led to a brisk correspondence with the British Embassy.

Washington, 24th—The National Silver Company has resolved to call a meeting here, on May 26th, of the National Bimetallic Convention.

Vienna, 24th—The Emperor has given anaudience to the Archbishop of Warsaw on the latter's return from Rome, where he went to ask the Pope for a formal condemnation of the anti-Jewish agitation. The Archbishop says that His Holiness promised to submit the question to the College of Cardinals, as he could not interfere directly, and was anxious to avoid all disputes between the Church and the State.

Rohatyn (Austrian Galitzia), 24th—Dr Dyerameh, a high dignitary of the Church, has been brutally murdered by two men who threw him into the river. The motive for this barbarous crime is unknown.

London, 24th—The Prince of Wales and family have gone to join the Queen at Hyéres. Her Majesty will leave to-morrow for Darmstadt.

Calcutta, 24th—Cholera is devastating the city of Benares, where it has already carried off 135 people.

Auckland, 24th—There is bad news from Samoa. The Malaaphites are increasing the number of their forts and threaten to rise "en masse." The resources of the Government are exhausted, and the natives have paid no taxes for two years. The state of affairs is becoming very critical. Coincident with all this, it is announced that engineer Stevenson is planning new fortifications, to deal a blow at the Germans on the islands.

Paris, 25th — Amongst the papers found in possession of the Anarchists recently arrested were 50,000 copies of a proclamation in the usual violent stylo in reference to the commemoration on May 1st.

At Giers yesterday there was a serious fight between the police and some men on strike. The former used their swords right and left, and wounded several persons seriously.

London, 25th—A severe storm burst over Bristol yesterday. In the Channel there was a terrible collision between the British steamer Earl Chester and the Spanish steamer Soto. The Chester sank in seven minutes and the Soto had to be run on shore. The number of victims is not yet known.

Rome, 25th.—It is announced from Berlin that the German military authorities, on examining the new Italian rifle, declare it superior to all others up to date, including the Lebel, Mauser and Manlicher.

The people and government are enthused by this victory of Italy. The Government has declared that it will continue to manufacture the new rifle at any and every sacrifice.

Madrid, 25th—The Budget Committee has proposed fresh measures to cover the deficit, amongst them a further reduction in the Civil List, in salaries and in pensions; an increase in the duty on titles of nobility and on the manufacture of tobacco, high duties on foreign wines and spirits, etc. It is calculated that these measures will increase the revenue by $5,000,000.

Berlin, 25th.—Owing to the contemplated army reforms the resignation of the War Minister is imminent; and von Blume will probably succeed him.

Vienna, 25th.—The Archduchess Stephanie has just published a nice little volume entitled "Tears," which will be read with interest in Austria and abroad. The book is notable for its elegance of style and revelation of the author's talent.

Manchester, 25th — The Manchester Courier says that Prince George is already engaged to the Princess May of Teck, his deceased brother's fiancée.

Frankfort, 25th—The trade of this district for the past year shows a loss of 11,798,200 marks. The ribbon and velvet trades fell off most.

Vienna, 25th.—The recent conferences between Steinback, Austrian Finance Minister, and Weckerle, Hungarian Finance Minister, have resulted in an agreement to amend the proposed currency Bill.

London, 25th.—The cotton trade is falling off daily, to such an extent that many mills will have to stop work. The Lancaster factories have already closed.

New York, 25th — Telegrams from Madrid say that the American Minister there gave a banquet last night to Señor Dupuy, the new Spanish Minister to the United States. Cordial speeches were made on both sides.

Paris, 25th.—One Schneider has been arrested on the frontier as a German spy.

(Havas Agency)

Paris, 24th—Mr. Paul y Angulo died here to-day in the Grand Hotel.

Colonel Donne has been named Commander in Chief of the French expedition in Dahomey.

THE CONGRESS OF 1892.

It seems the Deputies are to have a preparatory session on Thursday, but Congress will hardly open before the 5th prox., owing to a want of quorum in the Senate. We understand that President Pellegrini's address will be short and sweet, which is a matter for congratulation, as these addresses in the last ten years have grown in length beyond human endurance.

The foremost matter for consideration is no longer the financial question, but the expediency of introducing some kind of Lynch Law under the authority of the National Government to check the wild career of murder and bloodshed that keeps the whole republic in such alarm. We have to go back to the year 1830 to find a similar state of things. The assassin's knife or pistol is now the dominant feature in Argentina, and the authorities are utterly paralyzed. In Corrientes, Santa Fé, Cordoba, Mendoza, San Luis and Tucuman a man's life is of little value.

In the province of Buenos Ayres things are not much better. Two whole families have been slaughtered in cold blood at Ramallo. Impunity has produced a Carnival of crime; yet these atrocities are passed over as if society were beyond hope of rescue.

A gentleman who arrived yesterday from Tucuman informs us that banditti, dressed as police, are going about, murdering and robbing in all directions, unopposed. Only a month ago soldiers and police were murdering colonists in Santa Fé, until two of the scoundrels were happily lynched.

Next after the business of giving some security to life and property the attention of Congress will be required for a new arrangement of the Foreign Debt. The country is manifestly unable to resume the full service of the same in January 18[illegible], as stipulated in the Moratorium. Our friends in England are now perfectly convinced of this fact, and willing to meet us half-way in an equitable compact based on a reduced interest for the next thirty years.

Let a special commissioner, an Argentine of high character, be at once sent to London, or else special powers be transmitted to Dr. Plaza, for the purpose. Many people will be inclined to think that the Republic will be in a position in 1894 to pay two per cent on the actual debt, rising to three per cent in 1904. It might be better to try and prevail on the bondholders to accept new bonds for 50 per cent of the present sum, and agree to pay 4 per cent on them for the next ten years, and 5 per cent after 1904. We do not propose to tie the hands of the special commissioner, but merely offer these suggestions for his consideration.

Congress may be inclined to give the more importance to our advice on this point as we maintained in January 1891 that the Moratorium was an impossible arrangement, dictated by the Bank of England for no other purpose than to protect the interests of Baring Brothers, without any regard to the Argentine Republic.

10 DAYS LATER.

London, April 5th.

In the House of Commons Sir M. H. Beach gave notice that he would call attention to the dismissal of a railway servant by the Cambrian Railway Company in consequence of the evidence he had given before Committee. Other cases were being investigated, and there would be no delay in dealing with them all as a whole. Mr. Channing and several other Opposition members urged that, as a breach of privilege, the matter should be proceeded with at once; but the Speaker, on being appealed to, ruled that a breach of privilege might be brought on at any time. Mr. Channing gave notice that he would move that it be proceeded with to day, if the President of the Board of Trade did not go on with it.

A Frenchman, named Debas, and a Portuguese, named Pereira, were apprehended yesterday at the door of the Spanish Cortes, in Madrid, with infernal machines in their possession. They had been watched by the police for a month, and were known to have designs upon the principal buildings in the Spanish capital Yesterday morning the detectives heard the arrangement made to commit the first outrage that afternoon. The men fiercely resisted their capture. They were found to be armed, and some compromising documents were taken from them.

Two Russians have been arrested at Narbonne on suspicion of being the men who stole a case of dynamite from a train at Lourdes on Saturday. Two cartridges were exploded yesterday outside the house of an official at the mines near Liége; no one was injured.

Ahmed Eyoub Pacha, the bearer of the Sultan's Firman for the investiture of the new Khedive, reached Cairo yesterday morning, and was received with great state.

Questions were asked in the Dominion House of Commons yesterday on the subject of the Syndicate which has recently obtained the control of all the cotton mills in Canada. Sir J. Thompson, Minister of Justice, in reply, stated that if the new Company unduly raised the price of cotton, the Government would abolish the duty on the manufactured article.

Mr. Irving was examined yesterday before the Commons' Select Committee inquiring into the Theatres and Amusements Bill. He considered that to give to places other than theatres the right to perform stage plays would be a destructive innovation to stage art, and he objected to turning theatres into music halls by allowing drinking and smoking in the auditorium. He approved of the censorship of plays, and mentioned instances of beneficial exercise.

The trial of Mrs. Montagu, wife of Captain Montagu, of Cromore House, Londonderry, for the manslaughter of her only daughter, a child of three years, took place at Dublin yesterday. For an act which Mr. Justice Murphy said was not an offence. Mrs. Montagu tied the child's arms behind her back, fastened her to a ring in the wall of a dark room, and left her alone for three hours. At the end of that time the child was found dead from suffocation. The defence was that the Prisoner had made a fatal mistake which did not amount to wilful criminality. The Jury found her Guilty, and added that, as she had acted under a mistaken sense of duty, they recommended her to mercy. She was sentenced to twelve months' hard labour.

The trial at Stafford of the six men charged with having been engaged in a conspiracy at Walsall to manufacture bombs for explosive purposes came to a close yesterday. The Jury acquitted Westley and Ditchgeld. The other four were found guilty, but Deakin was recommended to mercy. Before sentence was passed, the other three addressed the Court. They avowed themselves to be Anarchists, and declaimed against the present order of society. Mr. Justice Hawkins sentenced Charles, Cailes and Battola severally to ten years' penal servitude; and Deakin to five years' penal servitude.

An inquest was held yesterday, at Poplar, on a boy named John Wilkins, aged twelve years, who had hanged himself with a rope in his father's house. His mother said the boy had got beyond her control, and she was unable to do anything with him. The jury found that the lad had committed suicide while of unsound mind, and expressed an opinion that the father was to blame for not looking after him.

THE RAINHILL MURDERS.

FRESH REVELATIONS.

London, 24th March.

Most of the articles specified in the telegram from Perth, Western Australia, as having been found amongst Deeming's luggage when he was arrested are identified by the Mather family. The autograph album contained the names of many of his wife's acquaintances, and in the address book which Emily Mather bought just before going away she wrote the names and addresses of several friends. Superintendent Keighley discountenances the idea that Deeming had any connection with the Whitechapel murders.

Extracts have been published from the last letter written by the ill fated Rainhill girl, Miss Emily Mather, then on the way out to Australia with her husband, "Albert Oliver Williams," alias Frederick Bayley Deeming. The epistle, which is addressed to her mother at Rainhill, is written in red ink, and fills four sides of large foreign notepaper. It is headed "Indian Ocean, s.s. Kaiser Wilhelm Nov. 26, 1891." Mrs. Deeming, who writes in an exceedingly interesting and attractive style, tells her mother that they had entitled Albert, her husband, "The Doctor." Writing in terms of loving adoration, she relates why he had gained that title. First of all he cured a passenger of dysentery, making him up a dose and attending to him, because neither he nor the other steerage passengers were receiving he considered proper attention from the ship's doctor. Then he turned his attention to a poor woman who was ill with a slight brain fever, caused by the heat. He got some mustard oil and rubbed it on the woman's neck, thus allaying the fever and curing her. The captain did not seem to relish Albert's interference, but he could not prevent it. Concluding, the writer observes, "Albert is just now singing, 'I'll never get married any more.'" She enclosed a Christmas-card painted by Deeming, showing that he paints and brushes. The letter is finished with a few scribbled lined, on Nov. 27, at Colombo. Ceylon, whence it was despatched. It was described as being "From your loving children, Emily and Albert."

Similar lengthy and interesting letters had previously been written by the unfortunate young lady and posted home both from Oporto and Suez. In each of these, as well as in the third and last, she describes how happy she is, saying that she could not live without him, and was fortunate to have got such a good husband. The Wilheim Kaiser arrived at Melbourne on December 15, and on the 28th "Williams" wrote home to Rainhill, saying that Emily thought it quite time he wrote, as she had written three times. He spoke of the happy Christmas they had had together, and said that they were going to start for Hong Kong on Jan. 4, and would write home from every port of call. His illfated wife was then lying in her grave of cement, the murder having been committed on Christmas Eve.

Liverpool.

Active police inquiries are now being made both in London and Birmingham as to supposed robberies by the Rainhill murderer. It has been ascertained that he took to a London firm of silversmiths a silver salver for the purpose of having an inscription erased. He told a plausible story as to being compelled to dispose of his plate owing to embarrassments resulting from unsuccessful speculations. Since the Rainhill discoveries the affair has been reported to the police, and the salver is believed to be a part of the proceeds of a robbery committed whilst he was in London on his honeymoon. Some remarkable incidents have transpired with regard to Deeming's actions at Rainhill. He informed a gentleman residing in the village that he had come direct to England from his regiment in South Africa for the purpose of taking a house for Colonel Brooks, who had two daughters, upon whose charms he descanted at length, one of them being about to marry an officer of superior rank in the Hussars. In conversation with his friends at the Commercial Hotel, Deeming bragged of his South African adventures, and about a fortnight after the murder is supposed to have been committed, during a conversation of this nature, produced a formidable looking bloodstained knife which he brandished and exhibited, alleging that to it he owed his life after a two hours' fight with some Kaffirs, and that it still bore the blood stains of the fray. This knife is believed to be the one with which the atrocities at Dinham Villa were perpetrated.

It would seem that Deeming paid his addresses to a number of Liverpool ladies. At one of the Everton theatres he became acquainted with a young lady living in a street off Belmont-road, named Nelly, to whom he paid assiduous court. He represented himself as a master mariner, stating that he had traded abroad, made a large sum of money, and that he possessed gold nuggets and diamonds, which he had obtained in the goldfields of Australia and the diamond mines in South Africa. He presented the young lady with valuable presents, chiefly in diamonds. He proposed marriage to her, and, although her friends were favourable to the match, the girl herself had a terrible dread of her would-be lover. About this time the Jack the Ripper atrocities were startling the whole world. Revolting as the theme was, it was one upon which Deeming was never tired of talking to his inamorata and her friends. He said that Jack the Ripper was a bungler, and did not know how to take life scientifically. Producing a stiletto, he showed the young woman he wanted to marry where she could be fatally stabbed. He said this could be done to a person in the street without difficulty. The murderer could then make off and render discovery impossible. These horrifying episodes were not likely to ingratiate the fellow in the affections of the girl. She became terribly afraid of him, associated him with Jack the Ripper, and refused to go out with him at night or remain in the house alone with him. The mysterious sea-captain disappeared very suddenly. One night he had an appointment to take tea in Belmont-road; he did not come, and has never been seen by his lady friends in Everton again. His disappearance from these haunts coincides with the time that he turned up at Rainhill.

Adelaide (South Australia), March
March 21st.

It would appear that the terrible record against Deeming, alias Williams, of murder and robbery in various parts of the world must be further increased by a robbery here, the perpetrators of which have never been discovered.

The Adelaide police report that in January, 1888, a mad named Ward, whom they now suppose to be identical with Williams, arrived here from Melbourne, accompanied by his wife and two children, and stayed a month at an hotel at Port Adelaide. Ward soon became very friendly with two brothers named Howe, and they all sailed for St. Helena in the ship Barossa.

The day before they left, the Messrs. Howe were robbed of £60, and "Ward" was strongly suspected of being the thief. No evidence of his guilt was, however, forthcoming, and no charge was therefore formulated against him.

Since the discovery of the murder at Windsor, near Melbourne, portraits of the supposed murderer have been exhibited, and by those Mr. Heap, formerly steward of the Barossa, identifies Williams, or Deeming, as the passenger on board his vessel, who was known as Ward. He states that Mrs. Ward gave birth to a boy shortly before the vessel's arrival at St. Helena.

Ward proceeded thence with his family to Cape Town in the Dunrobin Castle, stating that he was bound for the Diamond Fields.

Cape Town, March 21st.

It has transpired that Deeming, who was accompanied by his wife and three children, was living here in the middle of 1888. He then stated that he had come from Australia. He also stayed at Port Elizabeth, and visited Natal, everywhere perpetrating a succession of clever swindles.

He was afterwards reported by a friend named Levy to have died at Durban in the middle of 1890.

Inquiries which have been instituted show that his name is well known at Johannesburg in connection with some extensive jewellery swindling in 1889, the specific charge against him being one brought by a Cape Town jeweller of having robbed him of £3,000 in the Transvaal.

[illegible] crimes from the fact that during Deeming's stay at Johannesburg, which lasted one month, two mysterious murders occurred there.

BRITISH HOSPITAL REPORT.

In presenting the annual Report for the year 1891, the Committee feel justified in saying that the work of the Hospital has been most successful, and that this result is largely due to the Resident Medical Officer, Dr. O'Conor, who has taken a very active interest in the internal management, and assisted by Miss Eames, the matron, has increased the efficiency and economical working of the Institution.

Thanks are especially due to the Honorary Medical Board. Dr. A. Greene and Dr. C. Watkins, for their unremitting attention to the work of the Hospital, involving a very considerable sacrifice of their time and leisure.

At various times during the year the duties of the staff were severely taxed by the number of serious cases of typhoid fever requiring very careful nursing, and it is gratifying to know that the patients and their friends have expressed generous approval and that not a single complaint has come to the knowledge of any member of the Committee.

Owing to the increasing number of typhoid patients, the Hosptial has been very full, and it has frequently been necessary to make up beds on the floors of wards, especially in the women's ward. The Committee therefore, in view of the necessity for more accommodation, desire to enlarge the women's ward and to arrange an "intermediate male ward" for better class patients, who cannot afford to pay the fees for private rooms, and in order to raise the necessary funds have resolved to hold a "Grand Bazaar." It is now ten years since a Bazaar was held for the hospital, and although times are bad there are a larger number of English-speaking people upon whose generosity the committee can count. A very influential committee has been formed and there is every prospect of the Bazaar being successful.

Owing to the depreciation of the currency it has been necessary to raise the scale of fees, and this question has the careful consideration of the Committee at their monthly meetings, and alterations will be made from time to time if considered expedient.

The Committee desire to acknowledge with thanks the courtesy of the Committee of the Convalescent Home in receiving patients from the hospital, and also for allowing the nurses to be received as visitors when they require rest to recruit their health.

The Laundry has not been used during the year because the washing can be done efficiently and at less expense by contract, and the Committee desire to sell the machinery and utilize the building for other purposes.

The Committee have pleasure in stating that the grounds have been properly laid out and a really beautiful garden made and stocked with plants, trees and vegetables without any outlay from the general funds. A sum of $700⅔ having been contributed by the Hospital Adornment Fund, and a further sum of about $800⅔ and many plants have been given to Dr. O'Conor by patients and their friends, and the necessary materials for making the paths have been given.

Special thanks are due to those who have during the year given very successful performances for the benefit of the Hospital, and to the public for their generous support by their attendance.

Thanks are due to the Committee of the Adornment Fund for a liberal donation towards cost of making garden and for a number of articles that have added to the comfort of patients.

The Committee desire to express their thanks to the Resident Medical Officer, Dr. John O'Conor, and to the matron, Miss Eames, and to the staff of nurses, for the very efficient manner in which they have performed their duties.

The Committee were fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Luck, who has combined the duties of dispenser and superintendent, and does the work well.

Thanks are due to Messrs. Lamport and Holt for free carriage of goods and to the proprietors of the STANDARD and Herald for favours received, and to Mr Huxtable for valuable assistance in distributing and receiving the collecting lists from various parts of the country, and to Mr. John Grant, 469 Cangallo, for printing the annual report free of charge.

The ledger balances and statement of revenue and expenditure are appended and are evidence of the great liberality of the public in subscriptions and increased money from entertainments during a period of commercial depression.

At the general meeting held on the 28th April, 1891, Messrs. F. W. Barrow, Wm. Goodwin, F. L'E. Wallace, and L. T. Wright were elected to fill the vacancies on the Committee.

Of the present Committee Messrs. John Drysdale, J. H. Higgins and Louis J. Lowe retire by rotation; three subscribers have to be elected and also the usual five suplentes.

MATINEE MUSICALE.

The inauguration of a series of matinees musicales took place on Sunday in the Operai Italiani under the direction of Sr. Ismael.

The audience of about 350 people was composed, principally, of the foreign residents, amongst whom might be seen the cream of the professional and amateur musical talent of this city. The director, in securing the assistance of Madame Dunant and Miss Lumb, has done much to make his concerts popular, and there is every reason to anticipate a very large attendance at the next, which will be given on Sunday the 8th of May.

Madame Dunant's rendering of her solos was a triumph of vocal and dramatic art such as is seldom, too seldom, heard or seen on our concert platforms; the room seemed small for her voice and made one wish that a theatre had been selected as the locale of the performance. The duet from "Beatrice and Benedict" (Berlioz) received the rendering which only could be expected from such consummate artistes as Madame Dunant and Miss Lumb. It was a subject of general regret that the latter lady, whose voice is as fresh and as charming as ever, did not figure as a soloist. The work of criticising a concert of such unusual merit as that of Sunday is very difficult, all the orchestral items being splendidly rendered. Place must, however, be given to Bizet's L'Arlesienne and the march from Lohengrin. The first-named work is called after Daudet's famous book and was composed for the dramatised version of that novel; the third movement or the Adagietto is charming and in demand to an encore was repeated. The only other piece encored was a walse, "Flirtation," very well played by the strings; as a work, it has very little merit, but it was encored on account of its catching melody.

These concerts promise to be the great source of attraction as social gatherings on Sunday evenings during the coming season.

THE LATE CHARLES S. BOWERS.

A WORTHY MAN GONE.

(Communicated).

Charles S. Bowers, a native of Boston, Massachusetts, died on Sunday, the 24th instant, at 5.20 p.m., in the fifty-second year of his age, and the thirtieth of his residence at Buenos Ayres. The remains, in which throbbed the heart of a sterling gentleman, devoted husband and parent, honorable merchant and fervent lover of his native soil, will today be accompanied by a large number of friends from the family domicile, Avenida Alvear 150, to the British Cemetery, where rest three of his six children. It had been his fond hope for a time that he might pass the remainder of his days amid the scenes of his youth, but he has now gone to a more distant realm, out through the dark shadows and into an eternal noon. Three years and a half ago the deceased retired with a handsome fortune from an importing business, and thereafter gave his main attention to exporting commodities to the United States, under the same firm-title of C. S. Bowers and Co., though co-operating by investment in several other active enterprises here. His probity, sagacity and energy made him a conspicuous member of this community before he had reached the prime of life. No man could have exhibited a more zealous regard for his word, his country and his hearthstone, or have less esteemed as being wholly his own the means amassed through years of industry. He was so generous, yet unostentatious, an almoner, so sympathetic in his heed of worthy appeals to his charity, that recourse to him was unceasing, and his own stranded countrymen often found his doorway so much responsive United States. And as he was prompt to succor the downcast, he was candid to resent intolerance and sham. A clear rill of sincere motive ran through all his conversation and life.

While his intimate friends were of varied nationalities, he especially rejoiced in the companionship of worthy fellow-countrymen with whom he could be in mental touch concerning affairs in his own land, and such partakers of his bounteous hospitality always found his home a radiant bit of transplanted Boston. To those who weeks before his demise saw the old fraternal cheer dim in his eye, the old virile frankness falter upon his life, it became obvious that he had relinquished the long resolute combat for life. Some token of this despondency appeared upon his return in mid-October from a brief trip taken to Paraguay in the hope of deriving some benefit from a change of scene and air. We feel the poverty of any attempt to comfort the stricken members of his household: a dark gloom overwhelms them, beneath which no venture of our sympathy may avail, and above which dwells the only Power to minister solace. May the Providence that has visited this stroke be tender and compassionate to bind up the wounds of the widow, worn by unremitting care during the long illness of her mate; and may the surviving children find continuous incentive in the example of a life worthy of emulation in every phase.

Grief-burdened hearts must spend their tears as storm-charged clouds break with rain, but there are serene depths of soul as of sky, and in the days to come, when sorrow like this is mercifully tempered to our strength, the memory of the deceased will return with tranquil grace to the forsaken home, as if his footfall were again audible; and hard as it must now be for those who bear his name to comprehend the Divine clemency in this sad visitation, the devout poet of his own country and town, Longfellow, when under stress of a like woe, has told us—

"Let us be patient! These severe afflictions
Not from the ground arise,
But oftentimes celestial benedictions
Assume this dark disguise.
There is no Death! What seems so is transition;
This life of mortal breath
Is but a suburb of the Life Elysian
Whose portal we call Death.
We will be patient and assuage the feeling
We may not wholly stay,
By silence sanctifying, not concealing,
The grief that must have way."

THE BURTON MURDER.

April 23rd

Mr. Editor,

I see in your issue of to-day a letter concerning the murder of Mrs. Burton, also the wounding of Mrs. Pryor by W. P. Greenslade, also saying that Mrs Greenslade was enticed to the house of Mrs. Pryor for immoral purposes. I do hereby most emphatically deny the insinuation. I also deny that Mrs. Pryor ever lent small sums of money on pledges, for, if you or any other man of common sense can tell me that a man working for $2.25 per day, paying $20 per month house rent, having a wife and a child, can have money to lend on small or large pledges, I shall be glad to learn; but it think if Mr. Greenslade was to tell of his own behaviour to his wife, all men of common sense would take a different view of the case. It is a good job for Mr. Greenslade and others that he is not in England, or that I have not the money, or I would make him and others pay for the slander and libel; give me a chance to prove who is right; I have no one to say they will pay half the expenses of a prosecution, I do not know if there is a public prosecutor here or where to apply for assistance. I am a stranger in a strange country, unable to speak the language, but I am ready to meet him in any public court and defy him to prove his statements, if it is him that has made them or whoever else has done. Hoping you will publish this in your next issue.

I remain,
Yours etc.,
One who wants nothing but justice.
David Pryor.

P. S.—I must also say that we had no connection whatever with the murder of Mrs. Burton more than was stated by us in our evidence, which I am ready to repeat at any time or place, providing the examiner is one who understands English.

CORDORA TO VALPARAISO OVERLAND.

Mr. Editor,

I have read "Viajero's" letter in reference to mine on the above trip, and he has certainly not grasped what I clearly conveyed, as I said that passengers cannot expect to have mules ready saddled to jump on waiting at the railway station.

My letter was written not to deter people from crossing the Andes, but to shew the time that is required for the journey; and from the tone of "Viajero's" letter I can only think he took more hours than I did, as he refrains from mentioning the times of his trip.

I have seen a lady 80 years of age that was about to cross the Andes, but then she was to take five days; and I have also seen children strapped to pack mules.

I have simply written my actual experience.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The week opened yesterday in rather dull fashion. The sun remained in bed all day, and the Clerk of the Weather looked grumpy, as if he intended to give the military manœuvres a douche. The mails from Europe by the Bresil are fairly lively, and we note that a criminal prosecution is not unlikely to arise in the complicated Murrieta case.

The cool weather has stunned Yellow Jack in Rio. The daily deaths from the disease have fallen to ten; last month they were sixty. This is very good news. The Health Board is already contemplating a reduction of quarantine.

Four murders were committed in La Plata on Sunday within the radius of a few squares One was for a sum of one cent!!

Everything is arranged for the concert for the Boys' Orphanage on May 23rd. in the Operai Hall, which Mr Angel Peluffo of 269 Calle Artes, has volunteered to decorate with plants for the occasion.

Mr. Olmi requests us to call the attention of those in search of superior furniture to his "Auction of the Epoch" tomorrow night; and to assure them that they will find, on personal inspection, that there is no exaggeration whatever in any of the eulogistic adjectives he has used in his advertizemsnt of this great furniture sale.

The Capital Tramway killed an old man of 60 yesterday morning in Calle Soria, and will necessarily have to face bereaved family on the subject of damages.

A Bolsa broker was arrested yesterday, ona question with a client about $8,000.

Several more Congressmen arrived in town on Sunday and yesterday, and the first preparatory sitting may come off on Thursday. The legislators all look in the best of health, and seem glad to get back in the capital. The Senators were summoned yesterday to a preparatory sitting, but no-quorumed. The Deputies are summoned for to day, but will probably miss fire also.

A blight in the maize crop in the North of Buenos Ayres province is announced.

There is talk of removing the wretched Lazzaretto on Flores Island to Lobos Island. Some shinplaster rumours are again fluttering about on the other side of the river.

An unusual number of thefts and burglaries took place on Sunday while the victims were fooling about and amusing themselves. Some $8000 in cash and trinkets changed hands during the day.

We are asked to make inquiries about two lads of poor parents who were sent out here three years ago. Their names are Thomas and Henry Woodhead, 13 and 22 years old. Their parents are very uneasy, as they have not written home since September last.

Mr. P. J. Walker, Superintendent of the Sailors' Home, will deliver a lecture on Narcotics, under the auspices of the Buenos Ayres Band of Hope, this session free. All are heartily invited; hall 862 Calle Santo Domingo, Barracas al Norte.

We have much pleasure in saluting Gen. Fotheringham, who has just arrived from the Andine provinces, and Mr. Francis Seymour Weldon who has been for several years resident in London.

Villa Devoto was the scene of much bustle on Sunday, a band of music assisting at the proposed land-auction near the station. We believe that 50 'manzanas' were to be offered for sale, and over 100 gentlemen attended, but no business was done. Landowners in the vicinity seem to attach an excessive value to their lands. This, of course, prevents any building, and the most delightful suburb of Buenos Ayres is paralyzed. The climate, however, is so distinct from anything else in this continent that it captivates whoever pays even a passing visit to the Village of the Heights.

Old Ireland must be pulling up again. The bank of Ireland has declared a dividend of eleven and a quarter per cent for the past year. What has its cousin in Threadneedle Street paid?

The life of a fish (carp notably) is known to be very long compared to other animals; but it is stated that in the Royal Aquarium at St. Petersburg there are fish which were placed there more than 150 years ago.

The cheapest high class music in town now is to be had at the little Doria theatre in Calle Rivadavia, where Il Trovatore was excellently performed on Sunday night. The prima donna, Sta. Fernandez, is an Argentine, and so is the baritone, Sr. Fontaynes.

Master Joseph Garrido pulled a horse by the tail in Calle Independencia on Sunday. He is now in bed for a month or two, with a more accurate idea of equine kicking powers than he had before.

The milkmen of the capital have formed a Mutual Aid Society, to protect their lives and pockets from highwaymen and their milk and water from the City Analyst and his inquisitive men.

The Argentine News of Rosario says: "Those individuals who assist the tramway conductors to steal, by returning their ticket when leaving the car, are worse than the wretched thieves that accept them."

Another paper in the City of Crime expresses its conviction that "Lime is Money." So it is, when it is fairly good.

The Social and Literary Guild in Rosario did not go to Alta Garcia in Holy Week as intended. Members too lazy or times too hard. Which?

A new industry has sprung up—taking the Inland Revenue cent stamps from match-boxes and selling them for half a cent.

"Is the dog mad?" he asked the boy, as the animal dashed by. "I reckon he is," replied the boy." I just see a butcher take a piece o' meat away from him and kick him six feet into the air. Would n't you be mad if that was done to you?"

We have to thank Messrs. MacKern and Shine for late English papers, to the 5th inst. They have come in the Bresil, which ran from Lisbon to Montevideo in fourteen days.

There was a very respectable blaze in a Calle Lorea saw-mill on Saturday night. The neighbouring houses were warmed up at a cost of $2500. The mill was insured for $25,000, and the owner is in "quod."

Time, Labour and Money saved by its use.

Messrs. Moore & Tudor, Maipu 163, B. Aires.
Chascomus, March 23rd 1891.
Dear Sirs—
"I have tried HAYWARD'S "PASTE" DIP on my Sheep, and have pleasure in bearing testimony to its EFFICACY AS A DIP. I need have no hesitation in recommending it generally as a Cure for Scab, without discolouring or damaging the Wool.
The "PASTE" is in my opinion preferable to the Powder, and will probably have a larger sale than the latter."
Yours very truly
(Signed) JOHN KELLIE.

It has been proved by many important Estancieros that HAYWARD'S PASTE is more convenient to use than any other Dip, being already mixed and dissolving in any kind of water. It makes a smooth soapy bath which adheres well to the Fleece and leaves the wool clean and soft.

ON 'CHANGE.

Friday, April 22nd.

The gold market continued very heavy this morning and prices dropped thirty cents in the ounce. Twenty thousand ounces changed hands at the first ring; the price opened at $55.20, fell to 55, and closed at 55.10, say 238½% premium. Eleven hundred sovereigns were sold at $17.42 to 17.08, say 238¾% premium. The speculation was weak all morning.
Patriotic Bonds were active and firm; they opened for cash at 59.50 and closed at 59.70. The rate for end of month closed firm at 60. Small amounts were sold for end of May as high as 60 50. Argentine Gas shares were sold at 41 and Old Gas shares at 63. Catalinas were steady at 7. La Plata Cedulas ruled weaker all round.
The exchange market remained firm at yesterday's rates. Discounts are slightly easier for a certain class of bills at short dates, and for comparatively small amounts.
The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the first ring to-day:—

Immediately after the first ring, an auction was called and auctioneer Fariña sold:—
1000 shares of Constructora de Flores at 0.75.
300 fully paid-up shares of the Ferro-carriles Pobladores Co. at 8.

The Caja de Conversion appears determined to defeat the negotiation arrived at between the European bankers and the National Government with regard to the famous Tucuman loan. The arguments urged by the Caja de Conversion are plausible enough and the Tucuman Bank must withdraw its issue of notes before the guaranteed bonds held by the Caja can be handed out for service on that provincial loan. It stands to reason that if the bonds are delivered under the present management the notes of the bank are bereft of any guarantee; this is contrary to law and cannot be tolerated. But for this the negotiation in question is good enough under the present critical circumstances of the Tucuman Government and the National Treasury. All the particulars of this negotiation we published in this column some time ago.

Another knotty question, and one that threatens to bring about a crisis between the Caja de Conversion and the Board of the Banco de la Nacion Argentina, is the issue of fractional notes. The Banco de la Nacion Argentina does not care to surrender the privileges it claims in this respect, but the Caja de Conversion is jealous of its control of the issue, and as the supreme body, will certainly not yield an inch. In the market it is understood that the Caja de Conversion has sole control over the issue of notes, whether banking paper or fractional currency. If the Government support the Banco de la Nacion in its pretensions, the Caja de Conversion Board must necessarily resign.

These questions between the high financial powers are not calculated to inspire much confidence in the market, but the present difficulties do not excite the apprehensions that might have raised a panic in the market not many months ago. It strikes one that there are too many financial cooks in this arduous manipulation of the currency; meantime, let us hope that whatever dissensions may arise, the Caja, the Banx, and the Finance Minister will always agree that no more paper money can be issued.

It appears that telegrams have been received from Antwerp and the North of France announcing a sudden rally in the wool market. If these advices be true, combed wools have risen to 4.95 francs per kilo. There was also a better tone in the wool plazas here this morning and yesterday. The end of the season is fast approaching and large shipments must be still sent forward. The shipments of last fortnight did not reach 25,000 bales, according to the figures of the Bolsa report of shipping in this port; fair quantities, however, move off from other ports on the Plate and Parana.

A leading London financial colleague makes the following pertinent remarks on the report of the Buenos Ayres Great Southern Railway:—
"The report of the Buenos Ayres Great Southern Railway Company for the half-year ended December 31, 1891, is remarkably good, considering the difficulties that have had to be faced. The gross receipts decreased £148,258, but a diminution in the working expenses reduced the decrease in net profits to £91,708 as compared with the second half of 1890. Depression seems to be telling its tale with the people in the Argentine Republic, and rendering them more economical; for, while the number of first-class passengers carried was

Mr. E. J. Byrne sold to-day four leagues of land in Section X of National Territories for $20,000 m/n. Seller, Mr. Luis Urdaniz. Buyer, Mr. Chachari.

The steamer Liguria, of the Pacific Steam Navigation Co., arrived at Montevideo to-day, and will leave to-morrow for the Pacific.

The monthly official report on Railways in construction shows: Transandine: line ready for public service to Uspallata. The rails reach kil. 130; the earthworks between 135 and 145 have been commenced. Villa Mercedes to Rioja: The first section to Santo Tome is open to traffic. On the second section the earthworks reach kil. 25. Works suspended for a year back. Line levelled to kil. 239. San Cristobal to Tucuman: Line cleared to Tucuman; rails reach kil. 536. Line wired between Tucuman and Rio Saliir.

The National Railway Board has sent to Government for approval the following proposed rules in reference to the railways.

1st. When the concession does not specify that the guarantee is to be paid on sections opened to traffic, it must be held that the guarantee does not commence to run until the whole line is open.

2nd. When a railway has built and opened to traffic several sections without continuing the works of the line, and even if the concession authorize payment of the guarantee, it will be suspended until the Railway Board is satisfied that the line will be finished according to contract.

The Caja de Conversion burned to-day $300,000 in notes of the Guaranteed Banks. On Saturday $300,000 were burned, making $600,000 in two days.

Sixty one shares of the Bank of the Nation were subscribed for to-day.

Government has not accepted the proposals of the Managers of the Railway Companies for a Central Station, which were based on availing of the present Central Station and adjacent lands. The managers will present another plan for a station on the land reclaimed from the river.

Mr. V. S. Lobato effected the following sales yesterday:—

Two lots Calle Independencia between Caridad and 24 de Noviembre, 75 varas deep, at $5.50 s/v.

Five lots Mejico between Caridad and 24 de Noviembre, 68 varas deep, $3.40 and 3.50 s/v.

Rio Segundo Brewery.

The Stout and Ale brewed at this Brewery are absolutely pure, they contain less alcohol and acidity than the imported brands and are recommended by the most eminent Physicians of the country. Both Ale and Staut are carefully pasteurized, thus preventing loss from excessive fermentation, and preserving them in good condition for an indefinite period.

Staut in barrel for draught
Do in dozens of half bottles
Pale Ale do do of ½ and ¼ bottles.

CHARLES OLMI

Magnificent lot of French furniture, belonging to M. Gaston Duplaquet.

Sunday, April 24th
at 1 p.m.

I will offer for sale at public auction, by order and for account of M. Duplaquet, all the splendid furniture in his residence comprising the following articles, omitting many too numerous to mention.

Drawing Room

Splendid suite in satin, silk and Genoa velvet, Lyre style. Most costly glass chandeliers by Osler, of great value, purchased in London. A really superb German piano of the sweetest tone. Thick Moquette carpet. Fine oil and water paintings bought in Milan. Silk curtains and numerous "objets d'art" of the first order.

Small Drawing-room

Costly Moquette carpet and chandelier of the purest crystal, of great value. A remarkably elegant suite "Coquille" style; pictures, bronzes, and a quantity of good imported furniture

Study

Fine oak book-case and writing desk with solid chairs. Pictures and bronzes, and other things, all in excellent condition and of the best kind.

Dining Room

A fine, solid table, French, Henri II. style, in oak and walnut, with French Morocco-covered chairs, quite new. Maple carpet. Bronze chandeliers. Crystal Osler gas brackets, paintings, engravings and other dining room requisites of the best kind.

Bedroom and Dressing room

Large suite of oak and walnut, solid, style Henri II. Wardrobe in three compartments with bevelled mirrors. Large dressing table, washstand, "Camera" and two night tables. Rich hangings, carpet, pictures etc. etc.

Guest's Room

A fine English suite of four articles, carpet and other things.

Plants, lamps, etc.

In fact the whole of the menage can be strongly recommended for its good taste and solidity, and especially the very splendid Osler chandeliers, bronzes and gas brackets for their superior quality.

The house is open to visitors from this date, from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. The auction will take place on Sunday 24th inst at 1 p.m.

Auction of French, English and German Furniture and all the Lares that adorn the house

2010-AV. MONTES DE OCA-2010

On Thursday 28th April

at 1 p.m. precisely, I will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, and by order of all the furniture in his house, consisting of the following articles more or less. A splendid German piano encased in metal, French chiffonier. English carpet: "chaise-longue" from Smyrna, lamps, rotating bookstand, tasteful ornaments and other articles of drawing-room furniture. Also ante-sala furniture. A very handsome bookcase of "palisandro," over mantle and bevelled mirrors; other ante-sala furniture.

There is a great deal of vestibule furniture, and a handsome hat and coat rack.

Also a large English sideboard, by Maple, costly chairs and solid table; ice-chest, beating stove and other dining room furniture, impossible to give in detail.

The furniture of the study is very good, including a book-case, English desk, fine and solid; three smaller book-cases, Standard barometer and thermometer, etc. etc. Wardrobe, English bed of double iron, and a lot of other bedroom furniture, small tables, knicknacks etc.

There is also a large quantity of furniture that I have not mentioned, as it would require too much space.

The house is open to inspection from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., from the 25th inst; and the auction will come off on Thursday the 28th inst. at 1 p.m.

CANNON'S
Sheep Dip
which obtained the only Prize medal at the Exhibition in Edinburgh 1890, and the eulogiums of all the Agricultural Press at the Royal Agricultural Show at Doncaster in 1891, where were exhibited Skins dressed with Cannon's Dip and those undressed showing a difference in value of over 25 per dozen in favor of Cannon's Fluid. These Skins will be exhibited at the Feria of the Sociedad Rural at Dolores, Chascomus, Balcarce, Azul etc.
This Dip has the following advantages:—It never stains the wool, but augments the growth and ensures the highest value in the market. It is easy to use, being readily soluble in cold water, and hand curing is rarely required after.
